Climate Action Case Studies across Somerset

Across Somerset, individuals, communities, organisations and businesses are stepping up to tackle the climate crisis in creative and meaningful ways. From restoring nature and reducing emissions to building resilience and empowering local voices and communities to step up.

At Somerset Climate Action Network, we believe in sharing the work happening to inspire change. That's why we're collecting case studies from across the county. If you have a project that contributes to climate action, we want to hear from you. Please complete the template below for us to showcase on our website.
